

Jayesh Patel leads Street Democracy's Functional Sentencing Project and serves as defense counsel in Street Outreach Court Detroit. Before founding Street Democracy, he worked at a DC economic development nonprofit, organizing community actions and stabilizing the lives of returning citizens. Outside of Street Democracy, Jayesh currently serves on the lawyers committee of the ACLU of Michigan and as a director of 482Forward, a Detroit parent-student advocacy organization. Jayesh was previously the Chair of the American Bar Association's Commission on Homelessness & Poverty and a clinical professor at Michigan State University's College of Law. Jayesh is a son of immigrants, a criminal, a parent of two salty teenagers, and a husband to a better person.